Create Partnership Trust Safeguarding Statement of Intent

Create Partnership Trust, including all staff, visitors and volunteers places the safeguarding and wellbeing of the children first. In our schools, children are taught how to keep themselves safe, form positive relationships, and know who to speak to if they need help.

We work with our families and sometimes outside agencies to safeguard our pupils. Our staff have a duty of care to report any concerns, and always act in the best interests of the child.

To whom this policy applies

The policy applies to all settings within the Trust including:

- The staff and pupils of all schools in the Trust
- Staff who work for Create Central
- Staff employed by the Trust but deployed to schools elsewhere
- Staff not employed directly by the Trust but regularly deployed to one of the Trust schools; e.g. in cleaning, catering or other professional services
- Visitors and volunteers using the safeguarding systems at the appropriate level
- All levels of governance: Members, Trustees and Local Advisers

The organisation of the document

Part 1: The policy which references Birmingham guidance and Keeping Children Safe in Education - KCSiE (generally in the lefthand columns) and adds further information about the Trust (in the right-hand columns), is based on the BCC 2022 model

Part 2: The procedures are outlined in general terms but my need further expansion at school-level including appropriate contact numbers, etc.

Part 3: Quality assurance and case studies are referenced.

Appendixes: provide further background advice and information, key contacts, etc.

Part 4: enables each school to add its own information

Contextual safeguarding is about the impact of the public/social context on children's lives – and consequently their safety. It seeks to identify and respond to harm and abuse posed to children outside their home, either from adults or other children or young people. As an approach it looks at how interventions can change the processes and environments, to make them safer for all young people, as opposed to be focusing on an individual.	<ul> <li>DSLs consider contextual safeguarding and give due regard to the effectiveness of the school safeguarding system within the wider system.</li> <li>This is evidenced in: <ul> <li>Informal and formal assessments of need/risk for the child</li> <li>Case discussions in DSL supervision sessions</li> </ul> </li> </ul>
<ul> <li>appropriate time is made available to the DSL and deputy DSL(s) to allow them to undertake their duties.</li> <li>Safeguarding and child protection information will be dealt with in a confidential manner.</li> <li>The DSL ensures that the school is clear on parental responsibility for children on roll, and reports all identified private fostering arrangements to the local authority.</li> <li>Safeguarding records will be stored securely in a central place separate from academic records. Individual files are kept for each child: the school does not keep family files. Files are kept for at least the period during which the child is attending the school, and beyond that in line with current data legislation and guidance.</li> <li>If a child moves from the school, child protection and safeguarding records. Direct contact between the two schools may be necessary, especially on transfer from primary to secondary schools</li> <li>All in-year applications and transfers will also be reported to the local authority</li> </ul>	of what information has been shared, with whom, and when. Because we use CPOMS and store our records electronically, we do not hold paper files. We will not disclose to a parent any information held on a child/young person if this would put the child at risk of significant harm We record where and to whom the records have been passed and the date. This will allow the new setting to continue supporting victims of abuse and have that support in place for when the child is admitted.

6. Contextual Safeguarding

Contextual safeguarding is about the impact of the public/social context on children's lives – and consequently their safety.	DSLs consider contextual safeguarding and give due regard to the effectiveness of the school safeguarding system within the wider system.
	This is evidenced in:

- Each school must appoint a designated teacher to work with LAs to promote the educational achievement of registered children who are looked after.
- Designated teachers will have responsibility for promoting the educational achievement of children/ young people who have left care through adoption, special guardianship or child arrangement orders or who were adopted from state care outside England and Wales.
- Birmingham Children's Trust has ongoing responsibilities to the young people who cease to be looked after and become care leavers. That includes keeping in touch with them, preparing an assessment of their needs and appointing a personal adviser who develops a pathway plan with the young person. This plan describes how Birmingham Children's Trust will support the care leaver to participate in education or training.

Promoting the educational outcomes of children with a social worker

Virtual school head role extension to children with a social worker - GOV.UK (www.gov.uk)

- Children with a social worker may face barriers to education because of complex circumstances
- Effective support for children with a social worker needs education settings and local authorities to work together. All agencies can play a crucial role in establishing a culture where every child is able to make progress.
- Education settings and local authorities will have different responsibilities but establishing shared priorities can help to drive change for children.

Virtual school heads should identify and engage with key professionals such as designated Safeguarding Leads, social workers, headteachers, governors, Special Educational Needs Co-ordinators, mental health leads, other local authority officers, including Designated Social Care Officers for SEND, where they exist. to help them to understand the role they have in improving outcomes for children. The Trust has a policy: designated teacher for children looked after and previously looked after (CLA/PLAC); to which reference should be made when referring to this element of safeguarding/

The Trust ensures that there are appropriate policies and procedures in place in order for appropriate action to be taken in a timely manner to safeguard and promote children's welfare:	In our Trust and schools this means: All those involved in governance must read and implement part 2 of KCSIE 2022.

We use the specialist online monitoring software: Senso The Trust has a No Platform policy which should be referenced if this area of safeguarding is under review. Our schools will make referrals to Channel if we are concerned that an individual might be vulnerable to radicalisation.
Schools have a duty to cooperate with the Channel programme in the carrying out of its functions, and with the Police in providing information about an individual who is referred to Channel (Section 38, Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015).

17. Children Vulnerable to Exploitation, Trafficking or so-called Honour-based abuse (Including Female Genital Mutilation – FGM – and Forced Marriage)

All schools are subject to a mandatory reporting requirement in respect of female genital mutilation (FGM). When a teacher suspects or discovers that an act of FGM is going to be or has been carried out on a girl aged 18 or under, that teacher has a statutory duty to report it to the Police.	This means that in our Trust and our schools, we ensure: Our staff are supported to talk to families and local communities about sensitive concerns in relation to their children and to find ways to address them together wherever possible.
Failure to report such cases will result in disciplinary action.	All staff are up to date on the latest advice and guidance provided to assist in addressing specific vulnerabilities and forms of exploitation in relation to;
The teacher will also discuss the situation with the DSL who will consult Birmingham Children's Trust before a decision is made as to whether the mandatory reporting duty applies.	<ul> <li>Forced marriage</li> <li>FGM</li> <li>Honour-based abuse</li> <li>Trafficking</li> <li>Criminal exploitation and gang affiliation</li> </ul>

18. Children Missing Education

A child going missing and/or patterns of unauthorised absence, particularly repeatedly, can act as a vital warning sign of a range of safeguarding risks, including abuse and neglect, which may include sexual abuse or exploitation; child criminal exploitation; mental health problems; substance abuse and other issues. Early intervention is necessary to identify the existence of any underlying safeguarding risks and to help prevent the risk of them going missing in future.	<ul> <li>This means that in our Trust and our schools, we will:</li> <li>Hold two or more emergency contact numbers for each pupil</li> <li>Ensure all our attendance work liaises closely with the DSL</li> </ul>
Work around attendance and children missing from education will be coordinated with safeguarding interventions.	<ul> <li>Adapt our attendance monitoring on an individual basis to ensure the safety of each child at our school</li> </ul>
The school must notify the local authority of any child who has been absent without the school's permission for a continuous period of 5 days or more after making reasonable enquiries.	• Demonstrate that we have taken reasonable enquiries to ascertain the whereabouts of children that would be considered 'missing'.

20. Criminal Exploitation

Both CSE (child sexual exploitation) and CCE (child criminal exploitation) are forms of abuse. Both occur where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance in power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child into sexual or criminal activity	<ul> <li>This means that in our Trust and our schools, we will:</li> <li>Notice and listen to children/young people showing signs of being drawn in to anti-social or criminal behaviour</li> <li>Use the risk assessment screening tool to support our referrals to CASS for any children in our school we are concerned about</li> <li>Be aware of and work with the Police and local organisations to disrupt as much as possible criminal exploitation activity within our school.</li> </ul>

Part Two: The Key Procedures for our Schools

21. Involving Parents/Carers

In general, we will discuss any safeguarding or child protection concerns with parents/carers before approaching other schools or agencies and will seek their consent to making a referral to another agency. Appropriate staff will approach parents/carers after consultation with the DSL.

However, there may be occasions when the school will contact another school or agency before informing parents/carers because it considers that contacting them may increase the risk of significant harm to the child.

Parents/carers are informed about our Safeguarding & Child Protection Policy through the school website, various newsletters and face-to-face meetings.

22. Multi-agency working

We work in partnership with other agencies in line with Right Help Right Time to promote the best interests of our children and keep them as a top priority in all decisions and actions that affect them. Our school will, where necessary, liaise with these agencies to implement or contribute to an Early Help Assessment and Our Family Plan and make requests for support from Birmingham Children's Trust. These requests will be made by the DSL to the Children's Advice and Support Service (CASS) - 0121 303 1888 0121 303 1888 or Early Help Locality Teams to complete a Family Connect Form Where the child already has a safeguarding social worker or family support worker, or in their absence, to their team manager.

When invited, the DSL will participate in a MASH strategy meeting, usually by conference phone, adding schoolheld data and intelligence to the discussion so that the best interests of the child are met.

We will co-operate with any child protection enquiries conducted by Birmingham Children's Trust. The school will ensure representation at appropriate inter-agency meetings such as Our Family Plan, Children in Need, Initial and Review Child Protection Conferences, and Core Group meetings.

We will provide reports as required for these meetings. If the school is unable to attend, a written report will be sent and shared with Birmingham Children's Trust at least 24 hours prior to the meeting and will plan for DSL cover during the school holiday periods .

Where a child is subject to an inter-agency Child Protection Plan or a multi-agency risk assessment conference (MARAC) meeting, the school will contribute to the preparation, implementation and review of the plan as appropriate.

23. Our role in Supporting Children

Our school staff will offer appropriate support to individual children who have experienced abuse, who have abused others (child-on-child abuse) or who act as Young Carers in their home situation.

Our schools' contribution to the Local Domestic Abuse Prevention Strategy 2018-2023 will be through the adoption and implementation of Operation Encompass.

An Our Family Plan will be devised, implemented and reviewed regularly for these children. This Plan will detail areas of support, who will be involved, and the child's wishes and feelings. A copy of the Plan will be kept in the child's safeguarding record.

Children who abuse others will be responded to in a way that meets their needs as well as protecting others within the school community through a multi-agency risk assessment. Within our school we will ensure that the needs of children who abuse others will be considered separately from the needs of their victims.

We will ensure the school works in partnership with parents/carers and other agencies as appropriate.

24. Responding to an allegation about a member of staff or other adult

The Trust has a policy: Dealing with allegations against adults and this should be referenced directly as well as the information below.

See also Birmingham Safeguarding Children Partnership procedures on allegations against staff and volunteers. Although it is an uncomfortable thought, it needs to be acknowledged that there is the potential for staff in school to abuse children. In our schools we also recognise that concerns may be apparent before an allegation is made.

The school's low-level concerns policy provides a clear procedure for sharing confidentially such concerns.

All staff working within our organisation must report any potential safeguarding concerns about an individual's behaviour towards children and young people immediately.

Allegations or concerns about staff, colleagues and visitors (recognising that schools hold the responsibility to fully explore concerns about supply staff) must be reported directly to the Headteacher who will liaise with the Birmingham Children's Trust Designated Officer (LADO) Team who will decide on any action required.

If the concern relates to the Headteacher, it must be reported immediately to the CEO, who will liaise with the Designated Officer in Birmingham Children's Trust (LADO) and they will decide on any action required.

If the safeguarding concern relates to the CEO then the concern must be made directly to the Birmingham Children's Trust Designated Officer (LADO) Team who will decide on any action required.

25. Children with additional needs

- Our Trust recognises that all children have a right to be safe. Some children may be more vulnerable to abuse, for example those with a disability or a special educational need, those living with domestic violence or drug/alcohol abusing parents, etc.
- When the school is considering excluding, either for a fixed term or permanently, a vulnerable pupil or one who is the subject of a Child Protection Plan, or where there is an existing child protection file, we will conduct an holistic multiagency risk-assessment prior to making the decision to exclude. In the event of a one-off serious incident resulting in an immediate decision to exclude, the risk assessment should be completed prior to convening a meeting of the hearing Committee.
- The Trust has a policy for School Exclusions, which should always be referenced prior to any decision.

26. Children in specific circumstances

Many adults find themselves looking after someone else's child without realising that they may be involved in private fostering. A private fostering arrangement is one that is made privately (i.e. without the involvement of Birmingham Children's Trust) for the care of a child under the age of 16 (or under 18, if with a disability) by someone other than a parent or immediate relative. If the arrangement is to last, or has lasted, for 28 days or more, it is categorised as private fostering.

- The Children Act 1989 defines an immediate relative as a grandparent, brother, sister, uncle or aunt (whether of full blood or half blood or by marriage or civil partnership), or a step-parent.
- There is a mandatory duty on the school to inform Birmingham Children's Trust of a private fostering arrangement this is done by contacting CASS (0121 303 1888). The Trust then has a duty to check that the child/young person is being properly cared for and that the arrangement is satisfactory.
- People become involved in private fostering for all kinds of reasons. Examples of private fostering include:
- Children/young people who need alternative care because of parental illness
- Children/young people whose parents cannot care for them because their work or study involves long or antisocial hours
- Children/young people sent from abroad to stay with another family, usually to improve their educational opportunities
- Unaccompanied asylum seeking and refugee children/young people
- Teenagers who stay with friends (or other non-relatives) because they have fallen out with their parents
- Children/young people staying with families while attending a school away from their home area

Part Three: Quality Assurance, Learning from Cases & Continual Improvement

28. Quality Assurance

Quality assurance is about assessing the quality of the work we undertake in safeguarding children and understanding the impact of this work in terms of its effectiveness in helping children and young people feel safe.	<ul> <li>This means that in our Trust and our schools, we will:</li> <li>Complete the s175/157 audits on time, implement and review the resulting Action Plan with a view to reporting to relevant governance and challenge arrangements</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>This Quality Assurance Framework is aimed at: Ensuring that data and quality assurance outputs are regularly reviewed through s.175/157 audits and related governance and challenge arrangements.</li> <li>Ensuring that the safeguarding data schools generate is of good quality and contributes to a culture of continuous learning and improvement whereby key learning is embedded into practice, policies and guidance (see Appendix 7).</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>Contribute quality data to inform multi-agency audits and practice reviews</li> <li>Participate in activities that demonstrate the strength of partnership working</li> <li>Contribute our data to identify aspects that could have been better.</li> <li>Safeguarding leads will not only assess, plan, do and review plans but also regularly audit the quality of these against the agreed quality assurance framework:</li> </ul>
The BSCP has recommended that in reviewing the safeguarding data, those involved in safeguarding governance should be given reports detailing the number of early help interventions in school and multi- agency early help interventions, the number of requests for support being made and the number being accepted.	<ol> <li>How much did we do? #### Appendices

Appendix 1: Definitions and indicators of abuse

1. Neglect

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy as a result maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to:

- Provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment)
- Protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger
- Ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate caregivers)
- Ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment

It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

The following may be indicators of neglect (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- Constant hunger
- Stealing, scavenging and/or hoarding food
- Frequent tiredness or listlessness
- Frequently dirty or unkempt
- Often poorly or inappropriately clad for the weather
- Poor school attendance or often late for school
- Poor concentration
- Affection or attention seeking behaviour
- Illnesses or injuries that are left untreated
- Failure to achieve developmental milestones, for example growth, weight
- Failure to develop intellectually or socially
- Responsibility for activity that is not age appropriate such as cooking, ironing, caring for siblings
- The child is regularly not collected or received from school
- The child is left at home alone or with inappropriate carers

2. Physical abuse

Physical abuse may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

The following may be indicators of physical abuse (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- Multiple bruises in clusters, or of uniform shape
- Bruises that carry an imprint, such as a hand or a belt
- Bite marks

- Round burn marks
- Multiple burn marks and burns on unusual areas of the body such as the back, shoulders or buttocks;
- An injury that is not consistent with the account given
- Changing or different accounts of how an injury occurred
- Bald patches
- Symptoms of drug or alcohol intoxication or poisoning
- Unaccountable covering of limbs, even in hot weather
- Fear of going home or parents being contacted
- Fear of medical help
- Fear of changing for PE
- Inexplicable fear of adults or over-compliance
- Violence or aggression towards others including bullying Isolation from peers

3. Sexual abuse

Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by rape and/or penetration or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children.

The following may be indicators of sexual abuse (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- Sexually explicit play or behaviour or age-inappropriate knowledge
- Anal or vaginal discharge, soreness or scratching
- Reluctance to go home
- Inability to concentrate, tiredness
- Refusal to communicate
- Thrush, persistent complaints of stomach disorders or pains
- Eating disorders, for example anorexia nervosa and bulimia
- Attention seeking behaviour, self-mutilation, substance abuse
- Aggressive behaviour including sexual harassment or molestation
- Unusual compliance
- Regressive behaviour, enuresis, soiling
- Frequent or openly masturbating, touching others inappropriately
- Depression, withdrawal, isolation from peer group
- Reluctance to undress for PE or swimming
- Bruises or scratches in the genital area

4. Sexual exploitation

Child sexual exploitation occurs when a child, or another person, receives "something" (for example food, accommodation, drugs, alcohol, cigarettes, affection, gifts, money) as a result of the child/young person performing sexual activities on the child/young person.

The presence of any significant indicator for sexual exploitation should trigger a referral to Birmingham Children's Trust. The significant indicators are:

- Having a relationship of concern with a controlling adult or young person (this may involve physical and/or emotional abuse and/or gang activity)
- Entering and/or leaving vehicles driven by unknown adults
- Possessing unexplained amounts of money, expensive clothes or other items
- Frequenting areas known for risky activities
- Being groomed or abused via the Internet and mobile technology; and
- Having unexplained contact with hotels, taxi companies or fast food outlets.
   Missing for periods of time (CSE and county lines)

5. Emotional abuse

Emotional abuse is the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child/young person such as to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the child/young person's emotional development. It may involve conveying to children/young people that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child/young person opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond the child/young person's developmental capability, as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child/young person. It may involve serious bullying (including cyber bullying), causing children/young people frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children/young people. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment.

The following may be indicators of emotional abuse (this is not designed to be used as a checklist):

- The child consistently describes him/herself in very negative ways as stupid, naughty, hopeless, ugly •
   Over-reaction to mistakes
- Delayed physical, mental or emotional development
- Sudden speech or sensory disorders
- Inappropriate emotional responses, fantasies
- Neurotic behaviour: rocking, banging head, regression, tics and twitches
- Self-harming, drug or solvent abuse
- Fear of parents being contacted
- Running away
- Compulsive stealing
- Appetite disorders anorexia nervosa, bulimia; or
- Soiling, smearing faeces, enuresis.

N.B: Some situations where children stop communicating suddenly (known as "traumatic mutism") can indicate maltreatment.

6. Responses from parents/carers

Research and experience indicate that the following responses from parents may suggest a cause for concern across all five categories:

- Delay in seeking treatment that is obviously needed
- Unawareness or denial of any injury, pain or loss of function (for example, a fractured limb)
- Incompatible explanations offered, several different explanations or the child is said to have acted in a way that is inappropriate to her/his age and development
- Reluctance to give information or failure to mention other known relevant injuries
- Frequent presentation of minor injuries
- A persistently negative attitude towards the child
- Unrealistic expectations or constant complaints about the child
- Alcohol misuse or other drug/substance misuse
- Parents request removal of the child from home; or
- Violence between adults in the household
- Evidence of coercion and control.

7. Disabled children

When working with children with disabilities, practitioners need to be aware that additional possible indicators of abuse and/or neglect may also include:

- A bruise in a site that may not be of concern on an ambulant child such as the shin, maybe of concern on a nonmobile child
- Not getting enough help with feeding leading to malnourishment
- Poor toileting arrangements
- Lack of stimulation
- Unjustified and/or excessive use of restraint
- Rough handling, extreme behaviour modification such as deprivation of medication, food or clothing, disabling wheelchair batteries
- Unwillingness to try to learn a child's means of communication
- Ill-fitting equipment, for example, callipers, sleep boards, inappropriate splinting
- Misappropriation of a child's finances; or
- Inappropriate invasive procedures.

Appendix 2 Dealing with a disclosure of abuse

When a child tells me about abuse they have suffered, what should I remember?

- Stay calm.
- Do not communicate shock, anger or embarrassment.
- Reassure the child. Tell them you are pleased that they are speaking to you.
- Never enter into a pact of secrecy with the child. Assure her/him that you will try to help but let the child know that you will have to tell other people in order to do this. State who this will be and why.
- Tell her/him that you believe them. Children very rarely lie about abuse; but s/he may have tried to tell others and not been heard or believed.
- Tell the child that it is not her/his fault.

- Encourage the child to talk but do not ask "leading questions" or press for information.
- Listen and remember.
- Check that you have understood correctly what the child is trying to tell you.
- Praise the child for telling you. Communicate that s/he has a right to be safe and protected.
- Do not tell the child that what s/he experienced is dirty, naughty or bad.
- It is inappropriate to make any comments about the alleged offender.
- Be aware that the child may retract what s/he has told you. It is essential to record in writing, all you have heard, though not necessarily at the time of disclosure.
- At the end of the conversation, tell the child again who you are going to tell and why that person or those people need to know.
- As soon as you can afterwards, make a detailed record of the conversation using the child's own language. Include any questions you may have asked. Do not add any opinions or interpretations.
- If the disclosure relates to a physical injury do not photograph the injury but record in writing as much detail as possible.

NB - it is not education staff's role to seek disclosures. Their role is to observe that something may be wrong, ask about it, listen, be available and try to make time to talk. Staff should be aware that children may not feel ready or know how to tell someone that they are being abused, exploited, or neglected, and/or they may not recognise their experiences as harmful

Immediately after a disclosure

You should not deal with this yourself. Clear indications or disclosure of abuse must be reported to Birmingham Children's Trust without delay, by the Headteacher, DSL or in exceptional circumstances by the staff member who has raised the concern.

Children making a disclosure may do so with difficulty, having chosen carefully to whom they will speak. Listening to and supporting a child who has been abused can be traumatic for the adults involved. Support for you will be available from your DSL or Headteacher

Appendix 3 Allegations about a member of staff or other adult

Inappropriate behaviour by staff/volunteers could take the following forms:

- Physical For example, the intentional use of force as a punishment, slapping, use of objects to hit with, throwing objects, or rough physical handling
- Emotional For example, intimidation, belittling, scapegoating, sarcasm, lack of respect for children's rights, and attitudes that discriminate on the grounds of race, gender, disability or sexuality.
- Sexual For example, sexualised behaviour towards pupils, sexual harassment, inappropriate phone calls and texts, images
- Neglect For example, failing to act to protect children/young people, failing to seek medical attention or failure to carry out

• Spiritual - For example, using undue influence or pressure to control individuals or ensure obedience, follow religious practices that are harmful such as beatings or starvation.

If a child makes an allegation about a member of staff or other adult including a member of the Trust's governance or a visitor or volunteer, the Headteacher must be informed immediately. The Headteacher must carry out an urgent initial consideration in order to establish whether there is substance to the allegation. The Headteacher should not carry out the investigation her/himself or interview pupils. However, s/he should ensure that all investigations including for supply staff are completed appropriately.

The Headteacher should exercise and be accountable for their professional judgement on the action to be taken as follows:

- If the actions of the member of staff, and the consequences of the actions, raise credible child protection concerns, the Headteacher will notify Birmingham Children's Trust Designated Officer (LADO) Team<sup>1</sup> (Tel: 0121 675 1669). The LADO Team will liaise with the Headteacher and the CEO and advise about action to be taken and may initiate internal referrals within Birmingham Children's Trust to address the needs of children likely to have been affected. If the actions of the member of staff, and the consequences of the actions, do not raise credible child protection concerns, but do raise other issues in relation to the conduct of the member of staff or the pupil, these should be addressed through the Trust's own internal procedures.
- If the Headteacher decides that the allegation is without foundation and no further formal action is necessary, all those involved should be informed of this conclusion, and the reasons for the decision should be recorded on the child's safeguarding file. The allegation should be removed from personnel records.
- In other authorities the LADO service is referred to as the Position of Trust Team (POT)

Appendix 4 Indicators of vulnerability to radicalisation

Radicalisation is defined in KCSiE as:

The process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremist ideologies associated with terrorist groups.

Extremism is defined by the government in the Prevent Strategy as:

Vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas.

Extremism is defined by the Crown Prosecution Service as:

The demonstration of unacceptable behaviour by using any means or medium to express views which:

- Encourage, justify or glorify terrorist violence in furtherance of particular beliefs;
- Seek to provoke others to terrorist acts;
- Encourage other serious criminal activity or seek to provoke others to serious criminal acts; or
- Foster hatred which might lead to inter-community violence in the UK.

KCSiE describes terrorism as an action that endangers or causes serious violence to a person/people; causes serious damage to property; or seriously interferes or disrupts an electronic system. The use or threat must be designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public and is made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideological cause.

There is no such thing as a typical extremist. Those who become involved in extremist actions come from a range of backgrounds and experiences, and most individuals, even those who hold radical views, do not become involved in violent extremist activity.

Pupils may become susceptible to radicalisation through a range of social, personal and environmental factors - it is known that violent extremists exploit vulnerabilities in individuals to drive a wedge between them and their families and communities. It is vital that school staff are able to recognise those vulnerabilities.

Indicators of vulnerability include:

- Identity crisis the child is distanced from their cultural/religious heritage and experiences discomfort about their place in society
- Personal crisis the child may be experiencing family tensions; a sense of isolation; and low self-esteem; they may have dissociated from their existing friendship group and become involved with a new and different group of friends; they may be searching for answers to questions about identity, faith and belonging
- Personal circumstances migration; local community tensions; and events affecting the child's country or region of origin may contribute to a sense of grievance that is triggered by personal experience of racism or discrimination or aspects of Government policy
- Unmet aspirations the child may have perceptions of injustice; a feeling of failure; rejection of civic life
- Experiences of criminality which may include involvement with criminal groups, imprisonment, and poor resettlement/reintegration
- Special educational need students/pupils may experience difficulties with social interaction, empathy with others, understanding the consequences of their actions and awareness of the motivations of others.

This list is not exhaustive, nor does it mean that all children experiencing the above are at risk of radicalisation for the purposes of violent extremism.

More critical risk factors could include:

- Being in contact with extremist recruiters
- Family members convicted of a terrorism act or subject to a Channel intervention
- Accessing violent extremist websites, especially those with a social networking element
- Possessing or accessing violent extremist literature
- Using extremist narratives and a global ideology to explain personal disadvantage •
- Justifying the use of violence to solve societal issues

Joining or seeking to join extremist organisations

Significant changes to appearance and/or behaviour; and

• Experiencing a high level of social isolation resulting in issues of identity crisis and/or personal crisis.

Appendix 5 Preventing violent extremism - Roles and responsibilities of the Single Point of Contact (SPOC)

Each school has a named SPOC (Single point of Contact) who is responsible for:

• Ensuring that staff of the school are aware that the role of the SPOC is in relation to protecting students/pupils from

• Maintaining and applying a good understanding of the relevant guidance in relation to preventing students/pupils from becoming involved in terrorism, and protecting them from radicalisation by those who support terrorism or forms of extremism which lead to terrorism

• Raising awareness about the role and responsibilities of the school in relation to protecting students/pupils from

• Monitoring the effect in practice of the school's RE curriculum and assembly policy to ensure that they are used to promote community cohesion and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs

• Raising awareness within the school about safeguarding processes relating to protecting children from radicalisation

• Acting as the first point of contact within the school for case discussion relating to children who may be risk of radicalisation

• Collating relevant information in relation to referrals of vulnerable children into the Channel<sup>2</sup> process

Attending Channel meetings as necessary and carrying out any actions as agreed

• Reporting progress on actions to the Channel co-ordinator; and sharing any relevant additional information in a timely manner

Channel is a multi-agency approach to provide support to individuals who are at risk of being drawn into terrorist related activity. It is led by the West Midlands Police Counter-Terrorism Unit, and it aims to

• Establish an effective multi-agency referral and intervention process to identify vulnerable individuals;

• Safeguard individuals who might be vulnerable to being radicalised, so that they are not at risk of being drawn into terrorist-related activity; and

• Provide early intervention to protect and divert people away from the risks they face and reduce vulnerability.

Appendix 6 Emergency planning and response

Emergency planning and response for education, childcare, and children's social care settings (publishing.service.gov.uk)

Security-related incidents in schools and colleges

A school/college's security policy should complement their safeguarding policy, particularly where it puts in place measures to protect students; and address the threat of serious violence. It should form part of your suite of policies to ensure the health, safety and well-being of students and staff including in relation to the online environment.

Vulnerable Children and Young People

In all circumstances, vulnerable children and young people should be prioritised for continued face-to-face education and childcare. Schools must have regard to the statutory safeguarding guidance when taking any emergency and risk management actions, and should refer to the now updated and update safeguarding procedures in line with DfE updates:

Keeping children safe in education https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/keeping-children-safe-in-education--2 Working together to safeguard children - GOV.UK (www.gov.uk) https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/working-together-to-safeguard-children--2 Early years foundation stage (EYFS) statutory framework

https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/early-years-foundation-stage-framework--2

It is important that early years settings, schools (including mainstream and specialist settings) and further education providers put in place systems to keep in contact with vulnerable children and young people if they are not attending, particularly if they have a social worker. This includes:

- notifying their social worker (if they have one) and, for looked-after children, the local authority virtual school head
- agreeing with the social worker the best way to maintain contact and offer support
- keeping in contact with vulnerable children and young people to check their wellbeing and refer onto other services if additional support is needed

Safeguarding Partners and designated safeguarding leads

Schools, including maintained nursery schools, and colleges must continue to have regard to statutory safeguarding guidance Keeping children safe in education, and they will have a trained designated safeguarding lead (DSL) (or deputy) available on site. In cases where there may be operational challenges, 2 options to consider are:

- a trained DSL (or deputy) from the setting can be available to be contacted via phone or online video, for example working from home
- sharing trained DSLs (or deputies) with other settings, schools or FE providers (who should be available to be contacted via phone or online video)

Where a trained DSL (or deputy) is not on-site, in addition to one of the 2 options, a senior leader should take responsibility for co-ordinating safeguarding on site.

Remote Education: keeping children safe online - All schools and colleges should continue to consider the safety of their children when they are asked to work online. The starting point for online teaching should be that the same principles as set out in the school's or college's staff behaviour policy (sometimes known as a code of conduct) should be followed. This policy should amongst other things include acceptable use of technologies, staff pupil/student relationships and communication including the use of social media. The policy should apply equally to any existing or new online and distance learning arrangements which are introduced.

Schools and colleges should, as much as is reasonably possible, consider if their existing policies adequately reflect that some children (and in some cases staff) continue to work remotely online. As with the child protection policy, in some cases an annex/addendum summarising key coronavirus related changes may be more effective than re-writing/re-issuing the whole policy.

The principles set out in the guidance for safer working practice for those working with children and young people in education settings published by the Safer Recruitment Consortium may help schools and colleges satisfy themselves that their staff behaviour policies are robust and effective. In some areas schools and colleges may be able to seek support from their local authority when planning online lessons/activities and considering online safety.

Schools and colleges should continue to ensure any use of online learning tools and systems is in line with privacy and data protection requirements.

An essential part of the online planning process will be ensuring children who are being asked to work online have very clear reporting routes in place so they can raise any concerns whilst online. As well as reporting routes back to the school or college this should also signpost children to age appropriate practical support from the likes of:

- Childline for support
- UK Safer Internet Centre to report and remove harmful online content
- CEOP for advice on making a report about online abuse

Schools and colleges are likely to be in regular contact with parents and carers. Those communications should continue to be used to reinforce the importance of children being safe online and parents and carers are likely to find it helpful to understand what systems schools and colleges use to filter and monitor online use. It will be especially important for parents and carers to be aware of what their children are being asked to do online, including the sites they will asked to access and be clear who from the school or college (if anyone) their child is going to be interacting with online.

Parents and carers may choose to supplement the school or college online offer with support from online companies and in some cases individual tutors. In their communications with parents and carers, schools and colleges should emphasise the importance of securing online support from a reputable organisation/individual who can provide evidence that they are safe and can be trusted to have access to children.

Support for parents and carers to keep their children safe online includes:

- Thinkuknow provides advice from the National Crime Agency (NCA) on staying safe online.
- Parent info is a collaboration between Parentzone and the NCA providing support and guidance for parents from leading experts and organisations.
- Childnet offers a toolkit to support parents and carers of children of any age to start discussions about their online life, to set boundaries around online behaviour and technology use, and to find out where to get more help and support.
- Internet Matters provides age-specific online safety checklists, guides on how to set parental controls on a range of devices, and a host of practical tips to help children get the most out of their digital world.
- London Grid for Learning has support for parents and carers to keep their children safe online, including tips to keep primary aged children safe online.
- Net-aware has support for parents and carers from the NSPCC and O<sub>2</sub>, including a guide to social networks, apps and games.
- Let's Talk About It has advice for parents and carers to keep children safe from online radicalisation.
- UK Safer Internet Centre has tips, advice, guides and other resources to help keep children safe online, including parental controls offered by home internet providers and safety tools on social networks and other online services.

Government has also provided:

• Guide for parents and carers child online safety includes security and privacy settings, blocking unsuitable content, and parental controls.

The department encourages schools and colleges to share this support with parents and carers.

Complex & Significant Request for Support submitted to CASS for a multi-agency strategy discussion In addition to all the policy requirements already outlined, the school keeps its safeguarding and child protection information and day-to-day procedures up-to-date as follows:

- A range of posters around the school to demonstrate commitment to safeguarding and to identify key personnel
- A brief welcome sheet for visitors to the school which includes a summary of the policy, the names of DSLs, etc
- A regular review of how visitors are welcomed and checked into the school
- Plans for employee induction or any necessary update training throughout the school year
- The full range of people who will require access to and knowledge of the policy and procedures: employees, visitors and volunteers, temporary/agency staff and those working regularly on site who may be employees of other organisations

(e.g. cleaners, catering staff)

- Guidance for staff and regular monitoring of online safety
- Guidance for staff on awareness of cyber crime
- A consultation process and implementation of the RSE curriculum
- Guidance for staff to raise awareness of safeguarding issues in terms of school lettings

Additionally, each school must consider:

- How it will be demonstrated that the appropriate people have read, understood and applied the policy correctly
- How non-employees will be supported in terms of their understanding of confidentiality if involved in a case
